St. Aldemar

St. Aldemar was an abbot and a miracle worker. He was known as "the Wise". Born in Capua, Italy in 950, Aldemar became a monk in Monte Cassino. Aldemar's status and abilities were brought to the attention of Princess Aloara, princess of the region. When she built a new convent in San Lorenzo, Capua, Italy, Aldemar was appointed director of the religious established house. While director, he performed many miracles. Aldemar was then reassigned by his abbot to Monte Cassino, Italy. This made the princess very angry. He was then moved again to Boiana, Italy. While he was there, a companion involved in the dispute with the princess tried to kill him. Aldemar fled to Bocchignano, Abruzzi Italy, to the village of San Martino. While he was there he founded many religious houses and performed miracles. He died around 1080 of natural causes. His body resides in San Martino. He is the local patron saint. His feast day is March 24th.

Have a safe and blessed weekend.

St. Aldemar, you were known for your wisdom and wise counsel, living in constant union with the Spirit of the Lord, a miracle worker. Help us to live by your example, to hear God's voice, and serve the Lord God with our whole heart. Amen.
